A Note to Our Community

Charming. Cultured. A coastal gem. Those are just some of the superlatives travel writers and visitors use to describe the region we treasure and we couldn’t agree more. This has been an unprecedented year and a difficult one for many of the businesses and organizations that make up our community. As the state opens back up for business, we remain hopeful by the stories of creativity and perseverance. The Seacoast is a beloved destination and everyone wants to see this region thrive.

Our scenic area blends historic charm with a young spirit. From fabulous restaurants to hip boutiques, historic homes to vibrant arts and culture, there’s something here for everyone. We hope the locals will explore their region through the eyes of a visitor. Try a new restaurant or plan a staycation. Your old favorites may look a little different, but we encourage you to discover them all over again. HarborGuide is your road map to it all.

The teams at big brown books and The Chamber Collaborative of Greater Portsmouth are proud to present the 2020 HarborGuide—the Official Guide to Portsmouth and the Seacoast.

Best wishes to all,

The Seacoast is synonymous with recreation! From theatrical performances, to an afternoon kayaking the inlets of Great Bay, to a day with the kids at any of our great beaches, locals and visitors never run out of ways to play.
Let’s Go Out and Play

The natural beauty of the Seacoast offers so much to explore! From state parks and public trails to indoor and outdoor adventures, challenges and games, there’s no end of fun things to do.

PARKS & RECREATION

There are 141 state parks and public lands across Maine and New Hampshire, and dozens right here in the greater Seacoast region. The secret behind the natural beauty of the Seacoast is its geographic features — ocean beaches on one side, tucked into mountains on the other — and filled with parks, rivers, lakes and trails. Whether you’re out for a day trip with family, friends or pets, or exploring on your own, there are myriad parks and public lands to check out.

Pawtuckaway State Park is a 30–40 minute drive or less from most spots on the Seacoast, and features miles of easy trails, a lakefront beach area and several playgrounds. Keep an eye out for impressive boulders (“glacial erratics” from the Ice Age!) along this trail — and wildlife, including beavers, deer, great blue heron and other New England flora and fauna.

Odiorne State Park is a great spot on the coast, inhabiting trails, ocean and woods. It’s also the site of Seacoast Science Center, which has lots of cool things to do and see and learn.

Looking for a gentle uphill hike with a regional view? Blue Job Mountain in Farmington is just over a 1-mile loop that starts in Strafford and includes a gorgeous fire tower view. Mount Agamenticus is a generations-old and foretold and revered spot for hiking, driving and exploring. On your way home from Mount A., stop at Flo’s Hot Dogs for a legendary local hotdog experience!

Want to find new spots? Several apps created for exploring public outdoor spots that are widely used and updated with local tips like parking spots, trail marking info, etc. AllTrails or Trail Finder are apps that can direct you to local parks and trails to visit, and may contain helpful information about the trails from other hikers. You can find official information about state parks at NHStateParks.org (for New Hampshire) or Maine.Gov/DACF/Parks (for Maine). Both sites have detailed information about each park, including updated information on park closures, guidelines and rules such as whether they allow dogs, etc.

FUN & GAMES

If you’re up for a more structured way to enjoy the outdoors or are just looking for a new activity to try for a special occasion, there are lots of places in the Seacoast where games are afoot!

For outdoor gaming, check out the public volleyball net in Hampton, at Bicentennial Park. While you’re in Hampton, enjoy a tee time at the beautiful Sagamore-Hampton Golf Club.
(SagamoreGolf.com) — or try your hand at Fling golf, described as similar to crossing golf with lacrosse, where you get one fling club and a standard golf ball. You can try Fling golf at the driving range before trying it out on the regular course. The Links at Outlook in Berwick (OutlookGolf.com) is another great Seacoast golf course. Home to several popular annual tournaments, including “Mobsters & Lobsters” — a tournament that commences with a shotgun, includes air cannon shots and, of course, lobsters — and a Veterans Golf Tournament.

Looking for some games to play indoors in any weather? Check out Escape Rooms, an increasingly popular group challenge activity for those who like brain teasers, puzzles or just plain sleuthing. There are two escape rooms in Portsmouth: Monkey Mind Escape Room (MonkeyMindEscape.com), which has 3 options, and Portsmouth Escape Room (PortsmouthEscapeRoom.com), which has four on-site challenge rooms and two off-site/mobile challenges. These are great activities for groups of 2-10 people (or more, for the off-site group challenges). Each challenge/room has a narrative and a different challenge level — choose wisely, and consider starting with the easiest one if your group hasn’t done this type of game before. Challenges will be brain teasers and work your non-physical play muscles.

The Children’s Museum of New Hampshire (Childrens-Museum.org) is a hands-on learning museum for kids of all ages (yes, kids-at-heart, too!). This treasure trove of activities and exhibits, located in the heart of downtown Dover, has a fond place in the hearts of generations of Seacoast families.

The Music Hall
The “gem of the Seacoast” is one of the region’s most beloved institutions. From world-class concerts and large-scale community events at The Music Hall Historic Theater to intimate community conversations and independent film screenings at the The Music Hall Loft, The Music Hall is known for bringing people together for individual and collective experiences.

Seacoast Science Center
At the edge of the Atlantic Ocean, with a clear-day view of the Isles of Shoals, the Seacoast Science Center is a great way to spend a day. Inside the Center, you’ll find tanks filled with sea creatures and educational videos, exhibits, tours and talks. Outside is the sea itself, with rocky beaches, fields and woodsy trails to explore.

Little Harbor Trail
In the bucolic woods along the Sagamore Creek shores winds the Little Harbor Trail (WentworthCoolidge.org/Visit/Little-Harbor-Trail). This lovely 1.5-mile path winds around the historic Wentworth-Coolidge Historic Site and Grounds, Creek Farm and a piece of Portsmouth’s Conservation Land. It’s the perfect Portsmouth peaceful walk with a river viewpoint — and a less-travelled alternative to central downtown spots.

From vintage diners to seafood on the deck, the Seacoast is notable for its remarkable restaurants. We have a veritable buffet, from elegant prix fixe to family friendly. Whether it’s causal, take-out, modern or classic fare, vegan, vegetarian, or gluten free, you’ll find it here.

There are lots of ways to find fresh and local fish. Whether you’re looking for the freshest, best-tasting seafood meal, or just interested in supporting local food, knowing where to get locally-caught seafood is a skill worth mastering.

CATCH YOUR OWN

One way to get fresh seafood? Pull it out of the water yourself! With a thriving fisherman economy right in our shorefront backyards, you won’t have to look far to find a way to get out on the water. Private or group charter fishing day trip options abound during the summer months. Rye Harbor is home to a number of popular charter boats, including Savage Charters (SavageChartersNH.com) and Vintage Fish Company (VintageFishCompany.com).

BOAT TO TABLE

A silver lining to COVID-19-related restrictions was a resurgence in direct off-the-boat and curbside seafood sales — “boat to table,” as they say.

New Hampshire Community Seafood is a local fishery that offers a variety of seafood membership options for folks who want regular access to shares of fresh local seafood. Choose between weekly share sizes of fish or shellfish — or try the “Flexible Fish” option and order shares of haddock, shellfish or “Catch of the Week” at your own pace. Go to NHCommunitySeafood.com to learn more.

New England Fishmongers is another collective of local fisherman who offer off-the-boat fish — via home deliveries or at local markets. Check NewEnglandFishmongers.com for their market schedule or to place a home delivery order.

Several local Facebook Groups have been created by lobstermen as a way of convening many independent and even formerly commercial fish mongers, and making pickup/delivery details easy to find. Some groups are run by members of fishing vessels, referred to as “F/V [boat name]” or local food enthusiasts curating posts from F/V pages and fisherman’s posts. Search Facebook for: “Seacoast Off the Boat,” “Fresh Lobster Portsmouth NH,” or “F/V Last Penny Lobsters off the boat” for active Facebook communities where you can place orders by commenting, and pay online or at the boat upon pickup.

LOCAL MARKETS

While you may think of farmers markets as mostly containing food grown from the land, they’re also a great place to find local seafood. Most summer farmers markets run through October, and several areas around the Seacoast host winter farmers markets, too. Check SeacoastHarvest.com for a comprehensive list of farmers markets — and lots of other local food information, too.
Chauncey Creek
Chauncey Creek (ChaunceyCreek.com) is a summer must for many locals! Arrive by boat or car, BYOB and enjoy fresh lobster, chowder or oysters right on the water. Recommended BYOB pairing is a growler from Tributary Brewing (TributaryBrewingCompany.com) just up the street — stop on your way over (if you’re on land). We assume your boat’s cooler is already stocked!

The River House
The River House (RiverHouse53Bow.com) serves many award-winning dishes, and regularly wins local contests for its chowder. One special favorite you should try: The Tall Ships plate (or the mini version, the Small Ship’s plate), featuring two New England seafood classics: a lobster roll and bowl of clam “chowdah.”

Sue’s Seafood
Sue’s Seafood (Facebook.com/SuesSeafood) in Kittery is a great “cheat sheet” spot — offering “Take and Bake” sea-inspired entrees, fish and clam chowder to go, lobster and crab meat rolls to go and more! Plenty of fresh raw seafood, too, if you’re in the mood for cooking… but we won’t tell if you grab the ready-to-go version! Eat smarter, not harder!

Sanders Market (SandersFish.com) sells great local fish and seafood — including lobsters and crab, and other spiny sea creatures — in addition to tons of other things that you would even find at a neighborhood grocery store or market. They sell local food and beverages, including local beer, and even serve fresh prepared lobster rolls and fish sandwiches.

SERVED UP FRESH
Sometimes, you just want fresh seafood prepared for you — and even better if it’s served with a view! The Beach Plum (TheBeachPlum.net) is known for its delicious seafood — and their North Hampton location (one of three Seacoast spots, including Portsmouth and Epping) is across the street from the ocean. Their award-winning lobster roll comes in choose-your-own sizes up with portions of up to 10 ounces of lobster per delectable roll. Enjoy your food at their ocean-view picnic tables, or take it across the street to enjoy as close to the waves as you’d like.

Another waterfront favorite is BG’s Boathouse (BGsBoatHouse.com), located on Sagamore Creek just inland of the Atlantic. Their deck offers views of the occasional kayaker, boater or heron, and their menu includes all the local summer favorites — from a classic fried fish sandwich to baskets of fried seafood, and of course, that lobster’s roll. BG’s also offers a gluten free menu and a kid’s menu, to accommodate all the appetites in your party. Whether you arrive by land or by sea, BG’s is sure to have what you crave.

Looking for antiques? You’ve come to the right place! Original art? The Seacoast has loads of art galleries. Handmade crafts, souvenirs, high-quality children’s toys, sporting equipment—we have it all, shopping at its best.

From the Kittery Outlets to shopping malls in Newington to unique stores in downtown Portsmouth, Dover, and Exeter, there’s something for everyone.
There are many wonderful local spots to find art that will brighten your home, office or home office.

GALLERIES

Kennedy Gallery (KennedyGalleryAndFraming.com) sells all kinds of art by local artists both renowned and yet-to-be-discovered... perhaps by you! The core of their business, though, is custom framing — so no matter what art you have or where you procured it, you can find an appropriate framing solution. Kennedy gallery has been in business for 30 years, and their framing staff really knows their stuff — from UV-blocking glass and archival mounting to custom sizes and unique frame designs, they’ll walk you through the process to make sure your art is displayed in all of its glory.

The NH Art Association (NHArtAssociation.org) in downtown Portsmouth features a delightful variety of rotating featured local artists of all kinds of formats and disciplines. Members of the local art association participate regularly in juried shows, competitions and challenges, making for a wonderful rotating display of exhibits.

Venture a few blocks over to N. W. Barrett Gallery (NWBarrett.com) and you’ll be rewarded with more incredible art — sculptures, paintings, prints, wood carvings, pottery — all manner of art for your most beloved spaces. Staff are thoughtful and knowledgeable, and will help you find that perfect piece you’re looking for — even if you don’t know what it is yet.

In Kittery, Maine is a true treasure trove of wonders! Expand your definition of art and get ready to find truly unique pieces at Lost Coast (Facebook.com/LostCoastME). This shop is filled with treasures untold, and there’s new items to browse at every visit. Sure, there’s wall art here to browse — and even wearable art in the form of vintage tees, costumes and novelty aprons and hats. Need some audio art? Browse the extensive vintage record, 8-track and CD collections. Collectibles, toys, games, furniture, antiques... you’ll leave with something you never expected, and maybe also exactly what you were looking for.

Gus & Ruby (GusAndRuby.com) offers some local art — and even the fixin’s to make your own art! This is a great place to find the perfect card, gift and artistic wrapping paper — but also to find that perfect stationary, new art supply hobby-starter or coffee table book.

The Button Factory (ButtonFactoryStudios.com) could be aptly renamed “The Art Factory,” since it has now housed artists of all kinds for decades. Famous for their holiday tours, this once-button-making factory has established a well-earned reputation as the artistic heartbeat of the community. A few times per year, it opens its...
Portsmouth Soap Company

Offering organic, locally-made soaps, bath and body products, Portsmouth Soap Company has a shop in downtown Portsmouth if you like browsing in person — but also offers many creative gift package ideas on their website, PortsmouthSoaps.com. Browse by gender, age or species (yes, they offer dog packages!), and feel good knowing the ingredients are all organic.

Spicy Shark Hot Sauce

You may think you know what you’re going to get when you shop for hot sauce — but think again! A Portsmouth-born company, Spicy Shark Hot Sauce, thespicyshark.com, has not only a range of sauces from mild to “6-fin Hammah Gatah”-level hot, they offer Hot Maple Syrup, Hot Honey and even Hot Blueberry Syrup — brace your pancakes!

Port City Pretzel

You have likely seen these packages of tasty treats all over — and for good reason! Port City Pretzels (made in Portsmouth, of course), portcitypretzels.com, are that perfect salty snack that never gets old. Popular flavors include Tasty Ranch Dill, Feisty Hot and Cinnamon Sugar — a perfect range of flavors for every mood — truly “The People’s Pretzel”!

Nahcotta (nahcotta.com) is an art gallery, plus. Plus a gift shop, plus an art supply store, plus home furnishings and jewelry and cards... This is a spot it’s hard not to leave without a half-dozen new things you never knew existed before falling in love with at first sight inside Nahcotta. Their semi-annual Enormous Tiny Art (ETA) Show is now legendary. ETA guidelines are that artwork must be 10” x 10” or smaller — and this allows not only for more art on the walls for each ETA show, but also tends to allow for more accessibly-priced pieces, too. It’s a great “gateway” gallery opening — and pieces go up for sale online before the gallery show opens, too. Sign up for emails to get alerts and hop on the pieces you love at first sight before someone else gets them in their sights! Information and email signup at EnormousTinyArt.com.

doors for a factory-wide open house, typically at the beginning of December to kick off holiday shopping season. Enter with a list of names of gift recipients, and leave with something for everyone (and probably a few things for yourself, too).

The Seacoast can be your home away from home. Historic inns abound; luxurious hotels await your arrival. Locals even rent rooms to enjoy relaxing spas and indoor pools! Whatever type of lodging you need, even if it includes a pet, it’s available here.
Looking for a getaway just slightly out of your own neck of the woods? These local getaways are more than just a place to stay when you’re far from home. Many have amenities, views or unique qualities that make staying here a treat worth staycationing in!

When locals want a night away from home, The Sheraton Portsmouth Harborside Hotels (Marriott.com/hotels/travel/psmsi-sheraton-portsmouth-harborside-hotel/) is one of the go-tos. Their prime downtown location, with views of the Piscataqua River, offer getaway packages for travelers and staycationers alike. They’re situated atop a hill at the northern entrance to downtown Portsmouth’s vibrant shopping, dining and arts center — so the picturesque hotel is, to many, the gateway into downtown Portsmouth. The Sheraton also allows dogs, for a fee (up to two, up to 80 pounds each).

A relative newcomer in the last decade, The Hotel Portsmouth (TheHotelPortsmouth.com) is a boutique hotel that offers something unique — incredibly Instagrammable rooms and amenities! From their old-fashioned room key fobs to rotary-dial phones and a sailor/library themed front drawing room, The Hotel Portsmouth will certainly be a getaway to make your followers jealous — oh, and of course they have on-tap water, both flat and bubbly, in their 24/7 dining kitchen.

York Harbour Inn (YorkHarborInn.com) has incredible ocean views to go with your stay. Overlooking a gorgeous section of York, Maine’s Atlantic Coast, you’ll only need to crack open your window to get a deep breath of salty sea air. 2020 marks 40 years for York Harbor Inn, and there’s a reason they’ve been a lasting fixture on the coastal scene — in addition to hosting travelling vacationers, they’ve become a favorite spot for weekends away and date nights for the greater Seacoast community. York Harbour Inn allows dogs at their Harbor Crest building.

The Chapman Cottage and Tavern is York Harbor Inn’s luxury inn and is home to The Tavern restaurant. The Tavern offers an innovative menu in an intimate setting, with seating on an outdoor patio or fireside indoors. The accommodations at Chapman Cottage offer amenities including large private decks, spa-size bathrooms and gas fireplaces.

It would be easy to find an excuse to stay at Sailmaker’s House (SailmakersHouse.com) — even if you’re walking distance from their downtown Portsmouth location to begin with. This unique boutique inn is a getaway for sore eyes. This 10-room inn is on the South side of downtown Portsmouth, a very short walk to Prescott Park, home to outdoor concerts and plays in the summer, and Strawbery Banke, home to an ice skating rink and a holiday Candlelight Stroll in the winter. But its location isn’t its only draw — this historic former home has been lovingly restored and renovated with care, preserving its character and providing a authentic Old Portsmouth atmosphere.
One of Portsmouth’s newest hotels, AC Hotels by Marriott Portsmouth Downtown Waterfront (Facebook.com/ACHotelPortsmouth), is in the historic North End of Portsmouth. AC Hotel Portsmouth offers discounts starting at 15% off for local New England residents — so you can enjoy a staycation at a steal!

A PLACE FOR FIDO TO SIT & STAY

Travelling with your four-legged family member? In addition to the above-mentioned Sheraton and Harbor Crest building at York Harbor Inn, the following hotels and inns are dog-friendly. Please call ahead for site-specific rules and fees — most do not allow you to leave pets unattended in your room.

The Port Inn (PortInnPortsmouth.com) welcomes dogs, including multiple dogs and/or big dogs. There’s a fee per dog, and well-behaved dogs may be left in the room — if you’re willing to skip housekeeping visits during that time. The Hampton Inn in Portsmouth (HamptonInnPortsmouthDowntown.com) allows up to two pets of any size. Hampton Inn and Suites in Exeter allows up to two dogs of any size. Both prohibit leaving pets unattended for any time.

With or without your pets, these spots are great places to paws and enjoy all the Seacoast has to off-fur!

Rooftop at Envio Bar

AC Hotel’s events venue, The Envio (Facebook.com/RooftopPortsmouth), also has a rooftop bar — Rooftop is “a casually sophisticated indoor/outdoor sanctuary” that overlooks the iconic bridges of Portsmouth. Grab a cocktail or a locally-sourced meal while taking in a dusky view of the port city. You might even be treated to a view of an international cargo ship!

Sandy Pines Glamping

Sandy Pines (SandyPinesCamping.com) has figured out how to offer a sweet spot between camping and staying in a posh hotel — glamping! All accommodations are Instagram-ready and have outlets to charge your devices. For an even more unique option, choose an Air Stream, Glass House or Stargazing Oasis Dome.

Anchor Your Boat

Drop anchor for the night. Public space is available on the Piscataqua River at Portsmouth’s Prescott Park Boat Dock (603-431-8748). Great Bay Marine (greatbaymarine.com) in Newington provides access to Great Bay from the Piscataqua River. Access to the amenities of the famed Wentworth by the Sea are available at Wentworth by the Sea Marina (wentworthmarina.com), minutes from open ocean sailing. Day trippers can also tie up at Frisbee’s Wharf at Pepperrell Cove (pepperrellcove.com) on Kittery Point.
